

Dr. Jingjing He's Brief Introduction

Dr. Jingjing He is an Associate Professor and Master's Supervisor at the Institute of International Law, Chinese Academy of Social Sciences. She has gained a Master's degree from the University of Bristol, UK, and a Ph.D. from the same institution. She has completed her post-doctoral research at the Institute of Law, Chinese Academy of Social Sciences, and used to be a visiting PhD at the University of Cambridge. She has also been a visiting scholar at the University of Helsinki, Finland, and the University of Turin, Italy, as well as an Edwards Fellow at Columbia Law School, USA. She serves as the Deputy Head of the research team on "Research on Regulations for Data Compliance in the Health Industry" under the National Health Commission, as the leading legal expert for the first approved data export security assessment case approved by the Beijing Cyberspace Administration, as the Deputy Secretary-General of the Financial Technology Law Research Center, an expert member of the first advisory commission for the Beijing Financial Court, and an expert member of the Expert Committee of the Hangzhou Data Security Alliance.

Her main research areas include international law, data compliance and AI related regulations. She has led several provincial and ministerial-level projects, including a major project funded by the National Social Science Fund, and has participated in multiple data governance research projects for the National Health Commission, the People's Bank of China, and the Central Cyberspace Administration.

She has served as an Assistant Head of the Financial Street Court of the Beijing Xicheng District People's Court, a Council Member of the User Council Committee of the Singapore International Arbitration Centre, a Council Member of the China Arbitration Law Research Association, the Executive Deputy Director and Secretary-General of the Ad Hoc Arbitration Committee of the China Arbitration Law Research Association, and a Council Member of China Behavioral Law Society. She also serves as an arbitrator for various arbitration institutions, including China Maritime Arbitration Commission, Shenyang Arbitration Commission, Qingdao Arbitration Commission, Nanning Arbitration Commission, and Nantong Arbitration Commission.